What the Diamond Chart reveals.

The Diamond is one of the most powerful and beneficial divination tools numerology has to offer.

Whereas other metaphysical tools reflect an individual's personality, his or her character traits, talents, future forecast, and so forth, the Diamond reveals the chain of cause and effect that runs through our lives for the purpose of inspiring growth and offering guidance, both on the physical plane and the spiritual plane. The Diamond could be called the I Ching of numerology, because it reveals the links and interaction between the material body and the spiritual body.

The top part of the Diamond reflects your spiritual body. It is the heaven. The lower part of the Diamond represents your physical body. It is the earth.

The Diamond divides 81 years of your life in 36 time periods, each of which is presented in a 4-corner configuration – a kind of mini-diamond - within the Diamond. In addition, while each of these time periods affects us for 18 years (overlapping in four and a half year segments) the dominating influence of each of these mini-diamonds moves to the foreground for only one year. However, it sometimes repeats itself two or three times, often spaced a few years apart.

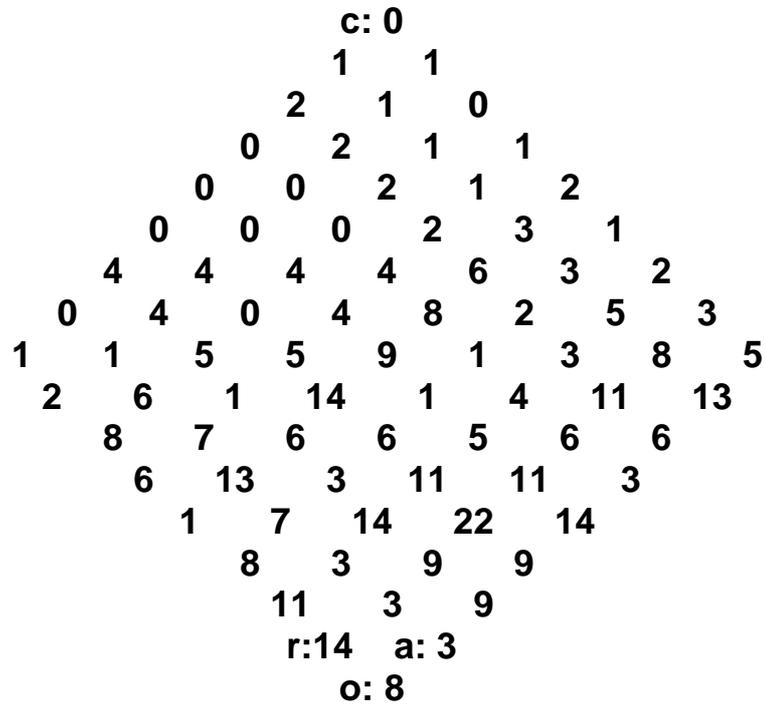

A diagram of your personal Diamond based on the letters in your name is included with your report. If you look closely, you will find the letter c next to a number in the top half of your Diamond, which points to your current Challenge. In the lower half you will find the letters r, a, and o, next to three numbers which form an inverted triangle. The numbers within this triangle reflect your Root, Action Key, and Outcome for that period.

Your Challenge, located in the top of the Diamond, is like a divine quest meant to guide you on your spiritual path. The Root, Action Key, and Outcome are of the earth, and outline the process that enables you to satisfy your Challenge.

Your Root reflects the source; it is the catalyst that starts a particular chain of cause and effect. The Action Key tells you how to respond. And the Outcome shows the probable result.

Lost for many generations, the Diamond's revival over the last 20 years is a result of the research and contemplations of Hans Decoz.

YOUR CHALLENGE

The Challenges are like Divine Quests, and are found in the top half of the Diamond.

The top half of the Diamond reflects our spiritual evolution, while the lower half, which is where we find the Root, Action Key, and Outcome, tells us of our worldly existence and experiences. Therefore, the Challenges reveal the true purpose of our struggles from a celestial viewpoint. The Root, Action Key, and Outcome, reflect the trial, response, and outcome on the material plane, a chain of cause and effect which exists for the sole purpose of delivering the perspective needed to satisfy our Divine Quest.

Within the context of reincarnation, the concept is that what we take with us when we leave our human body are certain qualities we earned or enhanced as a result of the life, or lives, we lived on this earth.

Our Challenges are inspirations of a divine source that seduce us into learning and growing on a level above and beyond our worldly mind. And as is befitting Divine Quests, the Challenges tend to be somewhat veiled and subtle.

Jane, your Challenge is 0.

Jane, of the nine possible challenges, the zero challenge is perhaps the most important. This is a challenge of the heart. Its purpose is to strengthen the connection between you and your fellow men through compassion, sympathy, and, most importantly, unity; the recognition that we are not as separate of each other as we seem. This is not about emotion. It's about wisdom. It takes wisdom to see all the things we have in common. Ignorance is what makes us see the differences.

You will find prejudice where you least expected it. Jane, you will witness cruelty and injustice. Your heart will want you to do the right thing, but you will also have the opportunity to take the easy way out. These are the choices that will define you. In essence, the zero challenge is not so much about good and evil, but about being brave enough to make the distinction and respond accordingly.

YOUR ROOT

The Root is the catalyst that sets a chain of events in motion. Based on the concept that we are here on this earth in order to learn and grow, the Root exposes weaknesses or challenges which need to be dealt with. Once we acknowledge the Root we get the opportunity to respond, thereby starting on a path of healing and growing.

Jane, your Root is 14.

Jane, one of the issues in your life has to do with a fear of freedom. It's analogous to a person who completes a long stint in the army. A divorce or getting laid-off can produce a similar result. You find yourself facing a time of relative emptiness; an empty space-time you are free to fill any way you want. Sometimes this can be frightening. We don't always look at it as freedom but rather as a void, an abyss. We fear this empty space. Reminiscent of a fear of height, think of this as a fear of freedom, or better yet, as a fear of time; time you have not yet filled with plans, goals, and expectations. You may feel lost and in search of purpose.

Find a way to establish new purpose in your life by setting practical goals; the kind that require time, focus, and effort to reach. Consider going back to college or take courses to improve your career.

YOUR ACTION KEY

The Action Key represents the guidance we are offered to help us on our path towards mental, emotional, and spiritual growth.

Jane, your Action Key is 3.

Jane, if you have ever watched children responding to adults, you know that they always say exactly what they think. This is generally not a healthy thing to do for adults. It can get you in a lot of trouble. And yet, we can all probably use at least some of that bluntness. In your case, it would be helpful if you were less inhibited and more like a child. You need to allow more of yourself to come from behind your carefully crafted facade.

Jane, the more you allow the true “Jane” out in the open, the more people will respect you and the more rewarding and satisfying your life will be. When you feel like laughing out loud, laugh out loud. When you feel anger, be angry. When you feel like hugging, hug. Be yourself. This is far from easy. In fact, it is very difficult and requires courage. But the reward is directly proportionate to the challenge.

In order to become less inhibited, you must become less self-conscious. You become less self-conscious when you take yourself less serious. You will take yourself less serious when you see all the things you have in common with your fellow men, instead of seeing yourself as different.

Key ingredients needed for the duration of this diamond are courage, honesty, and an open-minded outlook on life.

YOUR OUTCOME

The Root sets us on a path. The Action Key guides us along that path. And the Outcome indicates what it is we find at the end of this path.

Jane, your Outcome is 8.

Jane, of all possible Outcomes, this is the one that is most obviously recognizable as either very positive or very negative. There is no middle ground. The positive result is more common and shows up in the form of considerable career advancement, more authority and responsibility, and improved finances. There is visible and often surprisingly strong growth across the board; success, respect, and money.

The negative result is, of course, the exact opposite. A stagnated if not diminished career, and financial difficulties.
